St. Elizabeth Seton

It has been interesting times these last weeks in the church
 From mounting limbs in the hall and standing white birch.
 The warm autumn days and the abundance of sun
 It was into December before the roses were done.
 In the middle of November we still planted a tree
 A red bud maple as big as can be.
 The first order of prepping was trimming the hall
 With over 104 official nativities in all.
 From Angola to Zimbabwe and points in between
 From the four corners of the globe, it's an international scene.
 There is one snuck in from where my nephew got engaged,
 By the Eifel Tower where the proposal was staged.
 Before the season started we had something a bit sadder
 When one of our dear friends fell from a ladder.
 The ambulance came as quick as they could make
 And rushed him off to emerge at Southlake.
 Then to Sunnybrook trauma for some much needed care
 The good news is he's under repair.
 So it's the worst of times and the best of them too
 The ups and downs of life the whole year through
 At the cusp of this New Year, we venture to hope
 That no matter what comes we will be able to cope.
 It's been 14 Christmases spent here all together
 Where I belong like birds of a feather.
 As I reflect on these years if contained in a tome
 Suffice it to say, it was good to be home.
 No one really knows what the future may hold
 The butterfly in Peking may change what unfolds.
 As we celebrate and marvel at the in-breaking of God
 Despite the cloaked mystery we still remain awed.
 Getting to Christmas was a very twisted trek
 But then that is life, oh what the heck.
 So wherever you gather with whomever you eat
 Merry Christmas to you from here on Leslie Street.

Praising God in song is a wonderful thing
 As the 9.30 Choir loves to sing!
 May the presence of Christ give us reason
 To celebrate the spirit of the Christmas season!

Donna Maietta 9.00 Choir
